

Dr. Diego Castillo is a consultant in Respiratory Medicine graduated from medical school in 2001 (Universidad de Navarra, Spain). He trained in respiratory medicine in Barcelona at Hospital de la Santa Creu i Sant Pau (2003-2007). He completed his education in Rare Lung Diseases with a fellowship in Pulmonary Hypertension at Hospital Clínic (Barcelona) and Interstitial Lung Diseases at Royal Brompton Hospital (London). In 2009 he joined the Respiratory Department at Hospital de la Santa Creu i Sant Pau and since 2014 is the clinical leader of the ILD Unit. Dr. Castillo is co-leader of the research group “Infection, inflammation and immunity” at Sant Pau Biomedicine Research Institute (Barcelona).